D. Reading (6 points)

Read the text. Then answer the questions. Circle the answer or write one word or number.

Email · From: Lina Torres · To: Mr. Brooks (supervisor) · Subject: Update on today's tasks

Hi Mr. Brooks, here is my update for today. I've already restocked the shelves in aisles 3 and 4, and I've cleaned the break room. I haven't finished the inventory yet, because the new boxes arrived late. I've counted about half of them. I'll finish the rest tomorrow morning before the store opens. I've also written a list of the missing items, and I've left it on your desk.

I also have a question about next Saturday. My son has a doctor's appointment at 10:00, so I can't come in the morning. Do you mind if I start at 1:00 instead of 8:00? Carlos has already said he can cover my morning shift. He has worked in this department for two years, so he knows all the tasks.

Finally, the new name badges are too small. Customers can't read our names. Could we order bigger ones? I think it's a good idea to print our first names in large letters. Thank you, Lina

1. What has Lina already done?
   a. restocked the shelves b. finished the inventory c. ordered new name badges
2. True or false? Lina has finished the inventory. (True / False)
3. Why hasn't Lina finished?
   a. She was sick. b. The new boxes arrived late. c. The store closed early.
4. Write a time: Lina wants to start at _____ next Saturday.
5. Who can cover Lina's morning shift?
   a. Mr. Brooks b. Carlos c. her son
6. True or false? The new name badges are big enough. (True / False)

E. Writing (6 points)

Choose one task. Write 5–8 sentences. Give at least one reason.

Task 1: An update email. Write an email to your supervisor about your tasks today.

- What have you already done? What haven't you done yet? Why not?
- When will you finish? Ask a question or ask for feedback.

Task 2: An email that asks a favor. You are going to be away for the weekend. Write an email to a neighbor.

- Ask for help with Would you mind…? (feed the cat, get the mail, water the plants).
- Say why you will be away, and say thank you.
